YOUR CUSTOM TYPING CONTENT:

Bees might have a reputation for being feisty insects, but they also happen to be one of nature's superstars! Bees are some of the most efficient pollinators; they carry pollen between flowers, allowing plants to grow seeds and fruit. Without bees, we would lose many of our favorite produce items like apples, pears, and peaches. Wondering how you can help bees? Try planting some of their favorite flowers, and always remember to avoid swatting them so you don't interfere with their work.
